Econometrics mcqs with answers pdf

Patient, persistent and polite are the three qualities that describe Shubham well. It helped me understand the expansive concepts of econometrics in my penultimate year and overall linked the points to topics in my first year in just 3 months. This was essential and helped me overcome my fear of the subject while improving my confidence to resolve exam style issues. His ability to judge my learning pace and design an appropriate lesson plan increases his mature tutoring prowess accordingly. He also started conversations on various interesting topics to connect with me and help relieve tension during intense sessions and around exams. In addition, his expertise in this area has allowed him to easily understand simple and complicated subjects. Finally, it is extremely flexible and fast with time zones and virtual platforms (BOTIM in Dubai during the winter break because Zoom did not work there). I highly recommend Shubham to students who need virtual assistance for Econometrics as it is an individual with real personal integrity and a deep sense of reliability that will show you that the subject is not so bad after all. By Lizelle, Econometrics (BEE2031) - University of Exeter Shubham is a great econometric tutor. It has all the characteristics by that a great tutor is measured: Patience: I was given by Shubham more than 10 hours, not a second, he showed impatience. At first I was afraid to ask stupid questions, but his patience gave me the courage to ask all the little or stupid questions. Enthusiasm: Shubham teach econometrics not only for finance, instead he showed really interest and enthusiasm in this study and teaching experience. He would like to spend much more time studying my equipment, my program and my past exams without payment. Responsibility: In every lesson and work audit, he did his best to help me and made sure I took advantage of it. He made a plan for my exam review with me, as long as I was a little off the track, he would feel really worried with me and tried everything he could to pull me back, for example, adjusting his personal schedule for my exam deadline. There is much more to say, but I think everyone could discover more quality than they have working with him. I would like to introduce my friends to seek his help for sure! By Mia, Econometrics (MG 205) - London School of Economics This was my last session with Shubham, and I couldn't have wished for a better tutor. I was getting ready for my re-sit econometrics, and was looking for a tutor to get ready. I found Econometrics, as many would agree, a really difficult subject, and needed serious help. there were a lot of tutors to choose from, but I went to Shubham, and honestly, it was perhaps the best and wisest choice I've made in my entire life (no jokes). Shubham taught everything about econometrics from top to bottom. He made me understand things, which I thought I would never be able to He showed me ways to solve equations, to read questions, to ask questions, in the best way possible. His pedagogical skills are very impressive. As stubborn as I am, it can be quite difficult for tutors to deal with my arguments and claims, but he would deal with them. He is one of those tutors that no matter what question you ask, he will always know an answer to it, and for me it is very important because it makes you feel that this tutor literally knows everything. Great person, incredible tutor and simply professional econometrics. By Rice, Econometrics (EC226) - University of Warwick If you're struggling with econometrics, you don't have to worry anymore. This concludes the 3rd lesson I took with Shubham. My experience was excellent. Shubham knows how to teach what you are struggling with and he can do it in a very effective business. In my case, we finished several weeks of theory in just a handful of hours. I am now confident in the knowledge of the topics that have been discussed. 5 stars do not make the immense value of taking classes with Shubh all justice. Outdated in each session and there is no way I would recommend or use any other tutor for the subject of econometrics. I knew almost nothing before I met Shubh and now I feel not only comfortable with econometrics, but also well prepared to achieve high grades. By Marc, Econometrics - The University of Jordan This is my last class with Shubham, and I can honestly say that he is one of the best tutors I have had. He understood the problems I faced, and has a way to make me understand the heavy content of Econometrics in such a short time. It's a trusted booster when you're taught by a good tutor and it makes you believe you can actually have the exams. I can safely say that I can now do my questions and exercises for the past year without looking at the solutions, which I tend to do before. He is also very well prepared and he would constantly ask me if I understand his explanations before moving forward to the next topic. Thank you Shubham for the amazing tutoring sessions! By Qurratuaïn , Econometrics (EC226) - Warwick University Until Shubham I was struggling with some concepts in econometrics, but after only two lessons, I was able to understand and answer correctly all the questions I had previously found difficult. Anyone looking for an Econometrics tutor I highly recommend Shubham. It explains the concepts in a very clear and coherent structure. Overall, my learning experience with Shubham was exceptional. By Joe, Econometric Analysis - Newcastle University My last class with Shubham before my May :( I've had a lot of courses with Shubham and he's been extremely supportive throughout, he takes the time to fully explain all your slides, exam questions and gaps in your knowledge beyond the subject he teaches you. By Djan, Econometrics - University of Birmingham 5 Suppose the model (2) is estimated using 100,100 observations and that a test of the type described in question 4 is carried out. What would be the appropriate critical value of 2 with which to compare the test statistic, assuming a 10% test size?
